

From: Tim Coy
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/7/02 11:00pm
Subject: Microsoft did not get there by creating poor software!

The American dream is to be able to become a Microsoft by having a great product and great timing. Its seems as time passes those that are the failures now use the court system to attach those who make it. The fallacy is that Microsoft is where it is because it a Monopoly, this is a joke. I can remember when Windows was a joke and Mac OS was the way to go. As Mac laughed at Windows, Microsoft always went to consumer and asked how can we make or software better. The result is that Microsoft did build a much better OS than Mac. This a true example of the "tortoise and hair". I wish you would quit trying to destroy success. Jealousy in the power of the courts system is scary.

Tim Coy